

Summary, Conclusions, Next Steps

Jan Muehlfeit

Global Strategist, Coach, Mentor, ret. Chairman
Europe at Microsoft Corporation

CALL FOR ACTION ON E-LEADERSHIP: SELECT AND PRIORITISE KEY ACTIONS

- 5 key actions developed following a Europe-wide expert consultation process
- To be taken forward by stakeholders in industry and academia and by government at national level and by the European Union institutions after the conference
- Please provide your views on the ranking of these actions from 1 (first importance and priority) to 5
- Plus a brief description of a possible contribution of your organisation to these actions.

	Your views and ranking
Maintenance and promotion of pan-European guidelines for new curricula for e-leadership skills and encouraging the development of new courses (including MOOCs)	Ranking: ... Would you be ready to contribute to this action: Yes <input type="radio"/> No <input type="radio"/>
Development of a comprehensive agenda on e-leadership at EU and national level for digital and key enabling technologies (KETs) including all relevant policy initiatives (e.g. digital education, entrepreneurship etc.)	Ranking: ... Would you be ready to contribute to this action: Yes <input type="radio"/> No <input type="radio"/>
Analysis of labour market disruptions at EU and national level and the specific requirements for e-leadership skills in Europe (2016-2020) taking into account the increasing world-wide competition for talent	Ranking: ... Would you be ready to contribute to this action: Yes <input type="radio"/> No <input type="radio"/>
Market and business watch including statistics and forecasts (2016-2020) concerning the supply and demand of e-leadership skills in Europe and the benchmarks of Member States policy initiatives to identify good practices	Ranking: ... Would you be ready to contribute to this action: Yes <input type="radio"/> No <input type="radio"/>
Mobilisation of stakeholders to foster promotion, governance and cooperation activities on e-leadership in synergy with the "e-Skills for Jobs" campaign and the future initiatives on skills and training'	Ranking: ... Would you be ready to contribute to this action: Yes <input type="radio"/> No <input type="radio"/>